

Full Reciprocity

The Full Reciprocity Plan (FRP), and was adopted by the International Registration Plan (IRP) in October 2013. All states and provinces will be implementing the full reciprocity beginning January 1, 2015.

How it will work:

The effective date for your fleet depends on your fleet's IRP expiration date.

For registration periods beginning 1/1/2015 or later, the new rules apply.

For example: For registrations expiring December 2014 (or later) that are renewing in 2015, your cab-card will show all IRP states and Canadian provinces. You will no longer need to select jurisdictions in which you intend to operate. Your IRP fees will be calculated based on your June-July "reporting period" distances. If you are a new carrier without a reporting period history, you'll pay fees based on the Maryland estimated distance table.

You'll be able to operate in any IRP jurisdiction without the trouble and expense of adding a jurisdiction, or purchasing a trip permit. For each IRP renewal, fees will be charged based on the fleet's "reporting period" distance.

For registrants operating multiple IRP fleets, it is recommended that you consolidate your fleets since apportioned units will have the ability to travel to all member jurisdictions.

For registrations expiring November 2014 or earlier, the old rules will continue to apply through the expiration date in 2015. Cab-cards will only display those jurisdictions specifically requested by the carrier.
